

Environmental Matters

Whatever type of diving we enjoy we have the privilege of experiencing the variety and beauty of the underwater environment and we recognise that, as divers it is in our interest to look after it.

We are members of BSAC, The British Sub-Aqua Club which is the national governing body for scuba diving and snorkelling in the UK and are therefore in a unique position to contribute to the protection of the marine environment – today and for future generations.

BSAC has links with many charities and organisations e.g. Divers Making Waves, Sea Shepherd and Protect Our Seas Initiative. These links contribute to BSAC's commitment to the marine environment both at home and around the world and to our commitment as divers to protect our seas and shoreline.

BSAC works closely with the Marine Conservation Society's campaign 'Marine Reserves Now' which calls for protected marine reserves around the UK.

The BSAC website offers divers advice on how to dive responsibly in its Diving Environmental Guidelines. Details on ongoing projects and further environmental support and advice for divers can be found in the Protect Your Seas section in Advice and Support –
